25X1X 1. Report of 9 February 1952 [REDACTED]

ILLEGIB This report deals with [REDACTED] the transportation equipment industry. The following are random ~~xx~~ examples of information furnished:

During 1952 the Lowa (Locomotive and Railroad-Car Factory), Bautzen, is to produce 2000 full-track vehicles of type K 5 with 120 horse power motor.

The Lowa, Niesky, is to produce 1,600 three-axle 80-ton flatcars, the Lowa, Goerlitz, 700 two-axle 60-ton flatcars.

The production of bevel gears constitutes the biggest bottleneck in the manufacture of motor vehicles.

The Lowa, Goerlitz, is to produce 30 so-called disaster trains during 1952.

25X1X 2. a) Report of 5 February 1952 [REDACTED]

25X1X The [REDACTED] reports on the work of a brigade and the [fraudulent] manner in which the brigade leader managed to receive a bonus.

25X1X The completion of the Finow Strip Mill was delayed. The first part of the work is expected to be completed by October-November 1952 instead of the planned June date. One of the engineers, [REDACTED] intends to leave for West Germany [REDACTED] to work for the Wolf firm in Graefenhainichen, a fact which should delay the work some more. [REDACTED] errors in the plans for construction changes of the strip mill which should result in considerable delay of construction work and in additional expenditures to the GDR.

25X1X b) Report of 8 February 1952 [REDACTED]

As a result of the shortage of machine tools, apprentices in Abus [not indicated which plant] are being trained in two shifts.

The Finow Strip Mill originally was to have been delivered from Czechoslovakia. Present intentions are to produce it at Wildau. The [REDACTED] believes that the strip mill which was delivered by Czechoslovakia is now in Fuerstenberg.
